MASS MEETING SUNDAY FOR WOMEN ONLY

Mrs. May Dixon Thacker, wife of Dr. J. Ernest Thacker, Assembly Evangelist of the Southern Presbyterian church, who is at present conducting a revival meeting at the Presbyterian church, will deliver a lecture to women only at the church Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock. This address is to be delivered under auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church, who earnestly desire every woman in the city and county to hear Mrs. Thacker. Her subject for Sunday afternoon will be "The Human Touch."

Mrs. Thacker is the youngest member of the famous Dixon family of North Carolina. She is a sister of Rev. Thomas Dixon, author of "The Leopard's Spots," "The Clansman," "The Birth of a Nation," and others; Dr. A. C. Dixon, noted minister of the Baptist faith, former pastor of the Spurgeon Tabernacle, in London, Eng., and Frank Dixon, a noted platform orator, who has been heard here a number of times on the Chautauqua circuit. Not even her famous brothers have any lead in the matter of intellectuality, culture, brilliancy and originality of thought and presentation.

Mrs. Thacker's address will be the presentation of an important subject for women, and it is hoped she will be greeted by a large audience of representative women of Bourbon. It will be a tremendous inspiration to those who attend to hear this woman of such gifts, holding up the life of Christian service as that which towers above all other ways of living.

BOURBON LEGIONERS TO ATTEND RECEPTION

Members of Bourbon Post, American Legion, will go to Lexington tomorrow to take part in a reception to be tendered Alvin M. Owsley, of Texas, National Commander of the American Legion. Commander Owsley will deliver a speech to the Legioners at eight o'clock Saturday night in the Circuit Court room of the Lexington court house. Members of the Legion from all over the State are expected to be present.

Following a social session at the Lafayette Hotel, Saturday morning a banquet will be tendered the guest of honor, members of the Legion and invited guests will be present. The address of welcome to the distinguished guest will be delivered

MUNICIPAL HALLOWE'EN A GREAT SUCCESS

The municipal Halloween festivities held in this city Tuesday night under the joint auspices of the Paris Commercial Club and the Community Service was a decided success in all particulars. The weather was ideal for the occasion and the city was thronged with one of the largest crowds ever seen here on a like occasion, filling the entire square, which had been roped off so as to avoid vehicular traffic disturbing the celebrators.

The varied program was carried out on the public square and on the lawn surrounding the court house. Masquerade costumes of every conceivable kind were worn by the merry makers, and in marked contrast to celebrations of former years there was not a single action calling for interference of the police.

The grand march of the masqueraders formed on Broadway, and headed by the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Band, marched to Main, in front of the court house, where they were reviewed by the judges, Mrs. Wm. G. Talbot, Mrs. James McClure, John Davis and Harry Kerslake. Over three hundred took part in the parade. After due deliberation the judges awarded the prizes as follows: Best historical costume, $5.00, Miss Martha Hall; most comical costume, $5.00, Edward Faulkner; most original costume, $5.00, Master Edward Blake.

Following the awarding of prizes community games were played on the court house lawn, under the supervision of Mrs. J. C. Nickerson, Miss Nell Robbins and Miss Margaret Santen, her assistants. The children found the evening as enjoyable, or more so, than their elders. The final event of the evening was the distribution to the children of candies, apples and Halloween lanterns.

Prizes for the best Halloween window displays were awarded as follows: First prize, $15 to the J. T. Hinton Co.; second, $10 to The Leader Store; third, $5, to the A. J. Winters Co.

They have established a school for porters. No course in the counting of money is necessary.

by Mayor Bradley, and Clinton M. Harbison will preside as toastmaster.

THE GRIDIRON FIELD

Last Saturday Paris High School played perhaps the best game she has ever played in this city, and to-day, (Friday) November 3, when Paris meets the Newport High School you may expect to see a bitterly contested struggle. There has never been as much interest in football in Paris as there has been to-day. This is due largely to the splendid teams that Coach Ward is developing, and also due to the rapid growth of the High School, which gives the coach more material from which to select the team.

This is Craig Tucker's fourth and last year in High School football, and there is no doubt that he played the best game of his career against St. Xavier's. Friends of football in this city may expect to see him repeat the brilliant performance to-day against the heavy Newport team.

Nash, the one hundred and seventy-five pound full-back is also nearing the close of his last season of High School football. Nash was ineligible last week, but will be in the line-up to-day. John Coughlin, Chester Strother, two of the High School's most dependable linemen, were ineligible last week, but will be back in the line to-day. Dalzell, the fighting little end, has been sick for two weeks, but is making a stubborn fight to get into the game to-day. It looks now like every Paris player will be eligible to-day, and if they are football fans in this city have a chance to see the best game Paris has put in the field in years.

To-day will likely see the largest crowd of the season present, as Newport will bring here the best team to be found in any of the cities around Cincinnati, and their visit here will not be flowery beds of ease, for Paris is primed for this struggle as they have not been so for this season.

If Paris can beat Newport they will look forward with a great deal more encouragement to beat Somerset next Saturday. McCann played a splendid game last week and is in even better condition this week. Harmon Taylor, Capt. Jimmie Deacons, Connell, Dundon, and, in fact, the whole team, showed more fight last Saturday than in any previous game and can be depended upon to fight Newport harder this week.

To-day on Hancock Field the Paris High School football team will meet the fast eleven from the Newport High School. The P. H. S. has been strengthening their team since the game with St. Xavier's, with Coach Ward putting the men through their paces. Let's give them a good turnout and help pull them to victory.

While playing on the K. U. Suwanee football game at Lexington, "Chuck" Rice, of Paris, was injured in a fall, a ligament being torn near the knee cap. It is thought Rice will be able to take part in the clash with the Vanderbilt University team at Nashville on November 11.

TOBACCO HOUSES TO OPEN DECEMBER 1 TO 15

Samuel Clay, chairman of the Bourbon county branch of the Co-operative Burley Tobacco Marketing Association, attended the meeting of Board of Directors, held in Lexington, Wednesday, when a large number of matters of great interest to the growers and handlers of the crop were discussed and disposed of.

Among other matters that came up for consideration was the date for opening the various houses for reception of the 1922 crop for selling. It was decided that the opening should take place between December 1 and 15. The date for opening the Paris houses will be given later.

The report of Capt. William Collins, of Paris Chief of the Field Division Service, showed that the Association now has 73,265 members and it is likely that the number will exceed 75,000 by the time contracts now being signed are turned in at headquarters.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

In the County Court, Jim Bedinger, colored, was given a hearing before Judge George Batterton on a charge of wife-beating. He was given a jail sentence of fifty days at hard labor and assessed a fine of $100. This was the third time Bedinger had been presented in court on a similar charge.

County Judge Batterton appointed Edward H. Gorey as administrator of the estate of the late Cassie Gorey. Mr. Gorey accepted the trust and qualified by furnishing bond in the sum of $300, with Geo. W. Wilder as surety.

Why does the weather man save up all the cool spells for January, when we won't need them?

THE BOURBON GUN CLUB

The Bourbon Gun Club held their last shoot of the season Wednesday afternoon at the Club grounds, in East Paris, with twenty-five shooters taking part, and with a large number of visitors present. Despite the fact that a strong wind was blowing, which made it a rather difficult matter to hit the targets some very good scores were made. Nine trophies donated by Paris merchants, were won by the following: First, hat, Price & Co., won by Sam Harding; second, ham, Woodford Buckner, won by W. S. Haggard; third, box cigars, McClintock Bros., won by Clarence Kenney; fourth, box of cigars, James & Williams, won by Amos Turney; fifth, turkey, Crombie Poultry Co., fifth, turkey, Crombie Poultry Co.; turkey, the Brent Co., won by John Yerkes; seventh, $5 in trade, Roche's Drug Store, Fred Burgin; eighth, $5 in trade, Tully Bros., won by John N. C. Kenney, with .921 average.

DASTARDLY HALLOWE'EN PRANK

Vandals with a deprived idea of a Halloween celebration stretched a length of barbed wire across the Maysville pike, near Paris, Tuesday night. Herbert Delaney was taking a woman passenger in his taxi to a point in the country, when the machine struck the wire, breaking the windshield of the car and scattering broken glass in the woman's face, cutting her about the head and face.

Mr. Delaney after removing the wire, and taking his passenger to her destination, where she was given medical attention, returned to Paris and reported the occurrence to the authorities. An investigation is being made for the purpose of ascertaining, if possible, the identity of the miscreant. Mr. Delaney stated that if his machine had been a light one the accident would have resulted more seriously for his passenger.

PASSING OF THE CARD WRITER.

Two of the erstwhile frequent contributors to the Kentucky rural press seem to have passed out, and nowadays it is a rarity to find "Vox Populi" or "Pro Bono Publico" appended to an article advocating or criticizing this or that thing. In other days these contributors not only were prolific but ubiquitous.

Now when anybody resorts to card writing in the county papers in registering a kick against the officials or something else, he either signs his real name or adopts a nom de plume like "Indignant Taxpayer" or "Outraged Citizen." Most of the papers now require that such articles be temperate in tone and follow the amenities.

Another thing that may have discouraged the card writing propensities of "Vox Populi" and "Pro Bono Publico" is that the rural editor now insists upon payment for their insertion. Formerly such articles were generously contributed to the editor in the laudable effort to help him "fill the paper," and often they were accepted for the same purpose.

Since he has to pay for the privilege the chronic card writer finds less to grumble about or suggest.

MAYOR VETOES ORDER

At the last meeting of the City Council an order was entered O'Brien building, at the corner of rate a dance in the Stuart & Main and Eighth streets, without paying a license other than the amount he had paid this year. Tuesday Mayor E. B. January issued a statement placing his official veto on the action of the Council, on the ground of its being illegal. The message read:

"To the Members of the Honorable Board of Council of Paris, Kentucky. Gentlemen:—Pursuant to the powers vested in me by the laws of Kentucky, I hereby veto the action of the City Council passed at the regular meeting October 26, 1922, granting John M. Stuart the privilege of giving dances in the building at the corner of Main and Eighth streets, in this city, every week until May 1, 1923, without any compensation for license, which I consider is a direct violation of the ordinance passed by your body April 13, 1922.

"I think it is discriminating and I am moved to this measure from the reports of the police and persons living in this neighborhood."

ADMINISTRATORS APPOINTED

In the Nicholas County Court, John H. Barton was appointed administrator of the estate of his brother, Elijah Barton, of Millersburg, who died in the Massie Memorial Hospital, recently from injuries received by being struck by an automobile in Millersburg. J. H. Martin, Horace Bell and Amos Stamper were appointed to appraise the estate.

Rudolph Davis, of Paris was appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Howse, who died some time ago at her home in Carlisle.
